

Hyperbaric Oxygen Treatments for Necrotizing Fasciitis – Right Groin

Figure 1: Initial Consult

2/20/06

Figure 2: Treatment #11

3/6/06

Figure 3: Treatment #22

4/4/06

Figure 4: Treatment #40

4/18/06

Figure 5: Treatment #70

6/1/06

Figure 6: Final Visit

8/25/06

This 49-year-old, morbidly obese, diabetic female was referred to HyOx Medical Treatment Center for hyperbaric oxygen therapy for necrotizing fasciitis of the right groin. The patient was unable to walk because of the severity of the wound and lymphedema. She received 80 hyperbaric treatments in a four-month span.

Result: The patient completely healed and is ambulate again. No further surgery needed.